To the one Spirit — Source of All That Is

“When trees drop their leaves, it is not a time of grief but an indication of fresh growth. Similarly, when a person leaves his body, it should be taken as an indication of a new life”.

“Death is the silent and inevitable mystery that is within the fabric of every life. It is an experience so great that we cannot comprehend it, yet one so common that everyone will have it”.

Special music for memorial services to celebrate the life of a loved one with a gentle reminder that life goes on. The songs you will find on this album reflect our changing beliefs in an afterlife and that we are eternal beings...the conversation continues...

Dedicated to my many dear and loving friends and family on the other side who were the inspiration for the songs on this album...lyrics & quotes by Glenda Green (Love Without End), Abraham (Abraham-Hicks), Elizabeth Kubler-Ross and Rosemary Altea (Proud Spirit) album available on all digital venues, my website and as CD & Mp3...inspiring & comforting...

LE GRAND CONGÉ

Placide Gaboury

Selon ma façon de voir, il y a dans le monde des êtres qui ont des corps et d'autres qui n'en ont pas. Nous sommes portés à croire que les êtres sans corps (ou invisibles) sont inexistants et que par conséquent, tout ce qui est invisible (en nous ou ailleurs) est plus ou moins inexistante. Et, bien sur, nous nous convainquons de surcroît que seuls ceux qui vivent sur terre sont <les vivants>, les vrais.

Nous avons peur de ne pas exister, nous craignons de tomber dans l'inexistence dès notre sortie du monde physique. C'est la peur de nous trouver seuls, abandonnés, perdus, oubliés. Et cette peur fait que nous nous accrochons à notre terre, à notre corps, à nos biens matériels, autant de choses périssable et en mutation continue. Nous disons à propos des choses qui sont sans importance ou sans conséquences: "Mais, voyons, c'est 'immatériel'!" C'est que nous ne croyons pas être avant tout une conscience, une intelligence, une vie de l'esprit.

Il nous faudra réapprendre l'esprit et sa liberté. Il nous faudra redécouvrir que nous sommes plus que des corps, que notre matière n'a de sens que par notre esprit, que nous sommes la conscience qui donne à la matière sa valeur, son rôle, sa signification, ses ailes. Il nous faudra rentrer en nous-mêmes pour découvrir ce petit moi qui a si peur de disparaître. C'est ce qui nous empêche d'être pleinement conscients et présents.

La connaissance de la mort enrichit la vie et libère de la peur. Elle permet à l'ego de lâcher davantage ses défenses, de s'abandonner à cette vie qui ne cessera de battre. Il n'y a que de la vie et ce qui existe, c'est par elle seulement. Il n'y a que de la vie, dans des formes diverses allant du visible jusqu'à l'invisible.

Extrait du mini-livre de Placide Gaboury ~ "Le grand congé" ~ La mort qui libère pour la vie ~

Je vous offre cette collection de chansons en espérant que ce texte de Placide Gaboury et que cet album vous donnera paix d'esprit et confort sachant que le départ d'un être cher n'est qu'une transition du visible à l'invisible. Bien sur, en tant qu'humain c'est naturel de passer un certain temps de grande tristesse mais quand on se souvient que nos proches sont encore proches même s'ils sont devenus invisibles, nous pouvons toujours reprendre la conversation.

C'est le départ de plusieurs amis et membres de ma famille en très peu de temps qui inspira cet album. J'espère qu'il vous aidera à comprendre ce qu'est la mort (personne n'est arrivée à l'éviter) et à retrouver la joie dans votre vie. Francine

It seems you had another plan
And I believed you'd carry on

“PROUD SPIRIT”

Question: Grey Eagle, there are many of us who fear death. Can you give us any comfort or advice on the process of death?

Answer: There are many who fear the unknown and what appears to be an all-embracing darkness. You approach us with uncertainty. And yet, all there is here is Light...and yet all there is, is Joy...and yet all there is, is Beauty.

As each soul crosses the void which separates the two worlds, there will be a soul waiting with hand outstretched and a joyful heart...you will be greeted and made welcome.

There will be a time of celebration...for the souls who have already gone, departed your earth plane...will know of the joy of the reunion which we have already spoken of. No man will enter the tunnel alone. No man will step upon that path toward death without some help and a guiding hand.

Always someone will whisper to you, “look toward the Light.” And you will be drawn to it. And you will hear the chattering of excited voices. For those who await what you see as your death will be waiting and ready to celebrate your birth.

So fear not for death is a painless experience. The fear of leaving those behind you who you love will disappear...for you will still see them. And it will still be possible for you to be involved in their lives...and to watch them grow and to give them aid. Death is not a punishment.

You embark upon a new journey...your ticket paid...your passage assured...you will safely reach our shore...and no man will come alone...and no man's journey will be a lonely one for there are always souls who wait for you, with joy and with happiness in their hearts for your safe return to us.

Passage taken from “PROUD SPIRIT”, p. 130~131 by Rosemary Altea

SWEET SHANNA GOODBYE (Instrumental)

When God had made the earth & the sky — The flowers and the trees
He then made all the animals — And all the birds & the bees
And when his work was finished — Not one was quite the same
He said "I'll walk this earth of mine — And give each one a name
And so he traveled land and sea — And everywhere he went
A little creature followed Him — Until his strength was spent
And when all were named upon the earth — And the sky and sea
The little creature said "Dear Lord — There's not one left for me"
The Father smiled and gently said — "I've left you till the end
I've turned my own name back to front — And called you DOG my friend"

♪ Dream, drift away gently...Sing sweet lullaby
♪ Sleep, drift away slowly...Sweet Shanna goodbye

The animals who hold a cherished place in our hearts and homes offer inspiring lessons of patience, trust, compassion, healing and love. We learn from animals as they remind us that miracles do happen. They help us rise to life's challenges, find comfort in the face of loss, witness the hand of the Divine, and recognize the interconnectedness of all living things.

Angel Animals-Divine Messages of Miracles, by Allen & Linda Anderson

*My dear sweet friend,
I was hoping you might drift away in your sleep so I wouldn't have to make the decision. I have known for a while that you were ready to go. I saw the look in your eyes and I knew it was time.*

Although I can no longer touch your soft furry coat...run up and down the neighbourhood laneways on snowy nights and warm summer days (and rainy ones too), I must remind myself that you are just a few thoughts away. I will imagine you romping through the woods like a young pup knowing that your spirit lives on and that I will see you again someday. I will love you always...your mom...

CHILDREN OF THE RAINBOW

Children of the rainbow

Children of the light

Children of the rainbow

Spread your wings and start to fly

Spread your wings and start to fly

To where your dreams can take you now

Where your dreams come true

Children of the rainbow

Spread your wings and start to fly

Spread your wings and start to fly

Your heart is there to guide you

As you go on your way

With angels there beside you

You start a brand new day

There is no greater tragedy than the death of a child. The question occurs over and over again, "what is life, what is death, and why do young children, especially young children have to die?

Elizabeth Kubler-Ross

Why do some children die young? According to Seth (Jane Roberts), we choose our circumstances of birth and death. When speaking to a couple after the death of their young son, Seth said to them "Your son is not a little boy any longer. He is an entity older than you and he has tried to point out the way to you. He was a Light to you and his Light is not extinguished. It will lead you into knowledge that you wouldn't have known otherwise. He was here to enlighten you and so he did." SETH (Jane Roberts)

When a child is dying, we must try to see a soul so assured of immortality that he could receive that legacy.

A LITTLE CHILD STANDS NEAR

Verse 1

One night he heard you singing
Of love and hope and joy
Drew near to see if you could want
Another little boy

Verse 2

To comfort you in times of fear
And to soothe your pain
But you cannot take his comfort
For you never knew he came

Verse 3

You never knew when angry
When your voice was shrill to hear
With your fury and frustration
That a little child stood near(chorus)

Verse 4

Make no mistake, you drove him out
His love you did deny
Too full of selfish pitying
Yet still he is nearby

Verse 5

Why don't you see the joy you miss
He comes to show to you
Through you he looks out on the world
Should he be bitter too?(chorus)

Verse 6

He needs to give his love to you
As much as you to him
So find yourself, and find your joy
And welcome him back in

In dealing with any situation, knowing I am in the presence of trusting and impressionable children obliges me to remain calm and rational in my thinking and realistic in my expectations of myself & others. I feel I have a three-year-old holding my hand, albeit a child in the spirit world, and I have a joyful obligation to notice and share with him or her all the things that have ever brought me happiness to help make his or her world as beautiful as I can. As a result, looking for old and new joys to experience has left no place in my life for anxiety and self-doubt. Oh, how a child can teach us, if we, the adults, will only listen. As always, the child teaches the adult and leads the way.

And now all that's left is
A precious memory
Of the best love's ever been

MEETING GOD

With my eyes wide open, I saw the Light
My being was filled with pure delight
Where am I? What place is this?
It is so bright! So bright!

I melted into a warm embrace
I felt no fear...not even a trace
Of regret or sorrow or judgment or pain
There was only love
Nothing but love, warm love
Overwhelming love, precious love
Expanding, embracing, accepting
Nourishing, arms~wide~open
BIG HUG LOVE!

Warmth & Light covered me like a blanket
I heard a message in my heart
“My Dear Child!” it said
“I cherish you and bless you
You are a beacon, my shining star
Filled with my Light...that’s who you are”

My SELF expanded
I knew I was in the presence of God
I breathed His love into my perfect soul
“I love you and I am always with you.”
I heard God’s message loud and clear
And then it was over...I felt a tear

“Come back to us,” my mother cried
God’s voice was within her as she tried
To push a tide of water from my lifeless lungs
Urgent hands, slapping, punching at my back
I breathed...I felt a burning in my chest
I became aware of pain again
“Please let me stay,” I begged
“I’m so happy here.”
“Please don’t send me away.”
God’s love again filled my heart
And I knew we could never be apart

In my mother’s eyes I saw the fears
But I glimpsed God’s love behind her tears
I was only five...my life barely begun
I had much to do...,my time had not come
I slipped fully back into my body then
My new life was about to begin

EL GRAN VIAJE

Espero que aunque sean en inglés que estas canciones pueden darles paz en su mente y en su corazón al saber que la vida nunca se apaga...

A few words from the author/composer

It seems now more than ever as so many of us are experiencing the sudden & often unexpected loss of friends & family that we need more reassurance that death is just a transition from our earthly bodies back to Spirit, from one reality to another, and that life goes on. When we make peace with this transition we call death, we can live more fully in the present without fear.

For those of us still here, I invite you to listen to your favourite songs from “GOING HOME”— you will find them to be soothing & comforting in getting you through a difficult time — I was told by some people that they have already chosen songs they wish to hear at their own ‘celebration of life’...some say many of us attend our own memorials from our non-physical perspective — don’t wait until your transition to start celebrating ‘your’ life!

Live life to the fullest...no matter what is going on around you...
